Cities wrestle with budgets

Aldermen debate Waveland budget

BY BETSY GAGNET
With time running out, the Waveland Board of Aldermen appear to have come to an agreement with Mayor John Mason on the city's 1997-98 budget.
According to City Attorney Ronnie Artigues, the law requires the city to adopt a budget by Sept. 15.
"If no budget is adopted by that date) they would be in violation of statute, but penalties would not kick in until Oct. 1," said Artigues. "If no budget is adopted by Oct. 1, the city would have to basically close."

Further, Artigues said another public hearing may be required before the budget can be officially adopted.

Proposed raise for Favre 45%

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Bay St. Louis city officials reviewed a $9.5 million budget proposal Monday for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.
The spending plan offered by the mayor is about $1.3 million more than the city expects to spend this fiscal year from its general fund and utilities operations.
In addition, the city will be spending some $10 million in bond issue revenues to pay for major upgrades of drainage, sewer and water facilities, as well as street improvements.

In all, the budget requires no millage increase: the five mills the city levies on real and personal property will remain the same. Due to reappraisal, the five-mill rate will bring in about $30,000 more than it did this year.
Two mills of the levy are dedicated to Parks and Playgrounds, and three mills to the library system. The city collects no millage for general operations.

Beyond that increase in revenues, the budget projects increases in collections from almost every other source it has.
Utility charges are expected to bring in $3,090,000, an increase of some $400,000 over this year. Fees and revenue taxes on Casino Magic are expected to reap the city $3,027,500, an increase of $420,000.

Board holds up Port raises

BY ED LEPOMA
Raises for Port and Harbor employees are temporarily on hold.
By a 3-2 vote, Hancock County Supervisors approved next year's proposed $2.7 million capital and operating budget submitted by the P&H, but concerns were raised about 7.5 percent pay raises proposed for the Commission's 18 employees and three percent pay hikes for the port's Executive Director, Hal Walters and his assistant, Bill Stovall.
Walters was among the first to appear before supervisors meeting yesterday and went through details of proposed re-

Waveland robber sought

BY RICHARD MEEK
Police are looking for a black male who allegedly robbed the Payless Store in Waveland on Wednesday morning.
Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell described the suspect as a black male, 5-6, average build, wearing khaki knee-length shorts and a colored T-shirt. The suspect also had close-cut hair, according to Varnell. No vehicle description was available.
Varnell said the suspect entered Payless about 9:12 a.m. on Wednesday and proceeded to the back of the store. The store

All bets off

Kiln VFW Hall closed

BY ED LEPOMA
The Veterans of Foreign War Post 6285 in Kiln has been temporarily closed following last week's raid led by the Mississippi Gaming Commission.
The shutdown and suspension of all post activities were ordered by VFW State Commandant Hugh Long, according to Quartermaster Billy Ray White who spoke from the VFW's state office in Jackson.
The Post headquarters are on VFW Road, a short distance off Hwy. 603, and there was a handmade sign in the door which read, "Post Closed by State Commander." The Echo spotted two cars parked outside.
White said the state commander has appointed a three-member committee of trustees to "inventory the post and to conduct their own investigation into the incident."

He would not identify members of the committee, but said he expected they would complete their investigation "in three or four days."
The committee would then make recommendations to the state commander, White said.
On August 28, two persons were arrested, nine gaming devices, and four pull tab machines were seized at the Post, along with $341.50 in cash. Cleon Daniel Dunhurst, 65, of Kiln was charged with nine counts of possession of illegal gaming devices. Mildred Jean Lee, 34, of Kiln was charged with four counts of possession of illegal pull tabs.
Each count on possession of an illegal gaming device carries a maximum penalty of one

Ladner replaces Gavney

BY ED LEPOMA
Hancock County supervisors have tapped former Board of Supervisors President Mike Ladner to serve as the county's interim building inspector and zoning enforcement officer.
The Board unanimously approved the Planning Commission's recommendation to hire Ladner after approving a request for a leave of absence for an unspecified time from Willie Gavney, who has been serving in the dual position.
On Sept. 2, Gavney was indicted on a rape charge by the Hancock County Grand Jury for an incident that allegedly occurred last Oct. 18. The 59-year-old Bay St. Louis resident was arrested on the charge last Friday and is out after posting $5,000 bond.

In his request to the board dated Sept. 9, Gavney said he would take administrative leave of absence, "until I am exonerated of all charges." He asked the board to reappoint him to his position once he is cleared of the charge.

Although there was no debate over hiring Ladner, there was some discussion over how much he would be paid in the interim position.

Escapee sought

BY RICHARD MEEK
Hancock County Sheriff officials are looking for an inmate who walked off the county farm last Thursday.
Chief Deputy Nathan Hoda said Julian Henry Ladner, 46, walked off the farm in the vicinity of 12:15 p.m. on Thursday. Ladner had recently begun serving a 10-year sentence following a conviction of sexual battery.

Hoda described Ladner as a white male, 5-10, 230 pounds, bald, clean-shaven, with several tattoos, including one of a dagger on his left arm.

Two arrested in drug bust

BY RICHARD MEEK
Two Florida sisters were arrested Monday after 20 pounds of marijuana was seized from their possession.
Erika Monreal, 19, and Palmira Monreal, 18, were arrested and charged with Possession of Marijuana with Intent to Distribute, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.
Peterson said Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Sgt. James Esposito conducted a routine traffic stop on an El Espresso passenger bus at approximately the eastbound seven-mile marker on Interstate 10. Sgt. Esposito, using the canine Argo, Deputy Lt. Tim Broder, Deputies Abe Long, John Bourgeois, and Rick Fair inspected the bus and discovered the marijuana.

A subsequent investigation discovered that the two teens were traveling with their mother and brother from Brownsville, Tx., to their home in Wimauma, Fl. It was in Brownsville that the Monreals had allegedly purchased the marijuana, which carries a street value of $24,000, Peterson said.
The Monreals' mother and other brother were not charged and continued on their way to Florida, according to the sheriff.
Erika and Palmira Monreal were each placed under a $25,000 bond and are being held in the Hancock County Justice Facility.
The investigation is ongoing with the Hancock County Narcotics Task Force.

Drug seizure

Some 15 pounds of marijuana were seized following an Interstate 10 traffic violation stop Sept. 4. Hancock County Sheriff's Investigator Corky Hoda said, Lt. Tim Broder and Deputy Abe Long stopped a vehicle for a traffic violation about 4 a.m. Arrested were Roque Albavera, 29, Birmingham, and girl friend, Julia Rivera, an illegal alien. Both were charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, with a $50,000 bond set each. Rivera was turned over to Immigration authorities, who assisted in the bust, Hoda said. Hancock K-9 Officer Jimmy Esposito's dog alerted on the marijuana as he was called in, accompanied by Bay Patrolman J.J. Roberts. Hoda estimated the street value of the marijuana at $15-$16,000. Second Saturday in Old Town Bay St. Louis Bay St. Louis galleries, shops and restaurants will again host the Second Saturday Celebration Saturday, Sept. 13.

Old Town continues its tradi-

Revival services

The First Baptist Church, 141 Main Street in Bay St. Louis, will host Evangelist Dr. Billy Smith in revival services scheduled Sept. 14-17.

Services will be held Sunday, Sept. 14 at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. The revival will continue on Monday through Wednesday evenings at 7.

Dr. Smith is founder of Christ Above All Ministries, Inc. and is staff evangelist for Ridgecrest Baptist Church in Madison.

He is a graduate of Mississippi College, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Luther Rice Seminary.

He has served as a Southern Baptist pastor for 35 years, including his last three pastorate West Rome Baptist Church of Rome, Ga., Sherwood Baptist Church of Albany, Ga., and Ridgeway Baptist Church in Memphis, Tenn. Smith became a full-time evangelist April 10, 1994 and is in great demand as a revival preacher.

The members of First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis, invite the public to attend. A nursery will be provided and music and preaching will be the highlights of each service.

Hurricane seminar

The Central Gulf Coast Chapter of the American Meteorological Society will sponsor a hurricane preparedness seminar Wednesday, Sept. 17 at Stennis Space Center. The public is invited to attend.

Diamondhead Arts and Crafts Show cancels event

The organizing committee for the Diamondhead Arts and Crafts show has canceled the 15th annual show scheduled Sept. 27-28 this year.

Crafters were notified in late July, after weeks of ongoing negotiations with the Diamondhead Property Owners Board of Directors, of the cancellation.

The show is held on the grounds of the Diamondhead Country Club and is sponsored by the Diamondhead Academy. The Diamondhead Country Club burned in November 1995 and a new clubhouse is currently under construction on the site.

Bad weather caused many construction delays, and the unavailability of the country club plus the inherent dangers of a construction site make that location impossible.

Several alternate sites were considered, but they were either unavailable or did not meet the requirements of the show.

The POA Board of Directors has assured the show organizing committee that the arts and crafts show can be held on the Diamondhead Country Club grounds as usual in 1998.

"CUEVAS" QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Friday night will mark the third week of the high school football for area teams.

Thus far, the Hawks of Hancock and Pirates of Pass Christian are undefeated, while Bay High and St. Stanislaus are seeking their first victory of the season.

The Hawks will be taking a breather this week with an open bye. Their next game will be on Sept. 19 against the Bearcats in Long Beach.

Friday night will mark the third game of the season, away for the Tigers of Bay High when they travel to Vancleave.

It was a heart breaker for Bay High last week losing in overtime to Long Beach 12-9.

With a bit more fire power on offense, the Tigers could come home with a victory over Vancleave.

St. Stanislaus also lost in overtime Friday night to the Pirates of Pass Christian.

It was a game dominated by defense ending up with a scoreless tie. Pass Christian managed to carve a 7-0 margin in overtime.

The rejuvenated Pirates, sporting a 2-0 record, will be tested this week by the St. John Eagles of Gulfport.

St. John was stunned last Saturday by St. Aloysius of Vicksburg 22-21, so the Eagles will be out to get in that win column.

I hope that all football fans will be in the stadium Friday night supporting their favorite high school team. Best of luck to all of the players.

Classes are scheduled to begin on Mon., Sept. 15 at Hancock High School and Thurs., Sept. 18 at Bay High for the City County Fall 1997 Education Classes.

The Community Education Classes in 1996 were a tremendous success, and it is hoped there will be the same demand this year.

Dr. Gaynell Roberts, the executive director, has been working very hard during the past several months getting everything ready for the new night classes.

There is a very wide variety of courses being offered, including new computer courses.

Registrations will be at Hancock High's administration office, Sept. 15, 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and also at Bay High School, Sept. 18, 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., or weekdays via telephone, 467-3892.

Most any hobby or subject a person can think of will be offered, if there is a sufficient number of persons interested.

The length of courses depends on the subjects, with some for a six-week period for a few hours one night a week.

The education program is brought to the community through the efforts of many which include the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Board of Supervisors, cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and Hancock County School and Bay-Waveland school districts.

The opportunities are for you, so please take advantage of them.

Another Bay St. Louis landmark building is a thing of the past with the removal of the remains of Fahey Drug Store on Third Street.

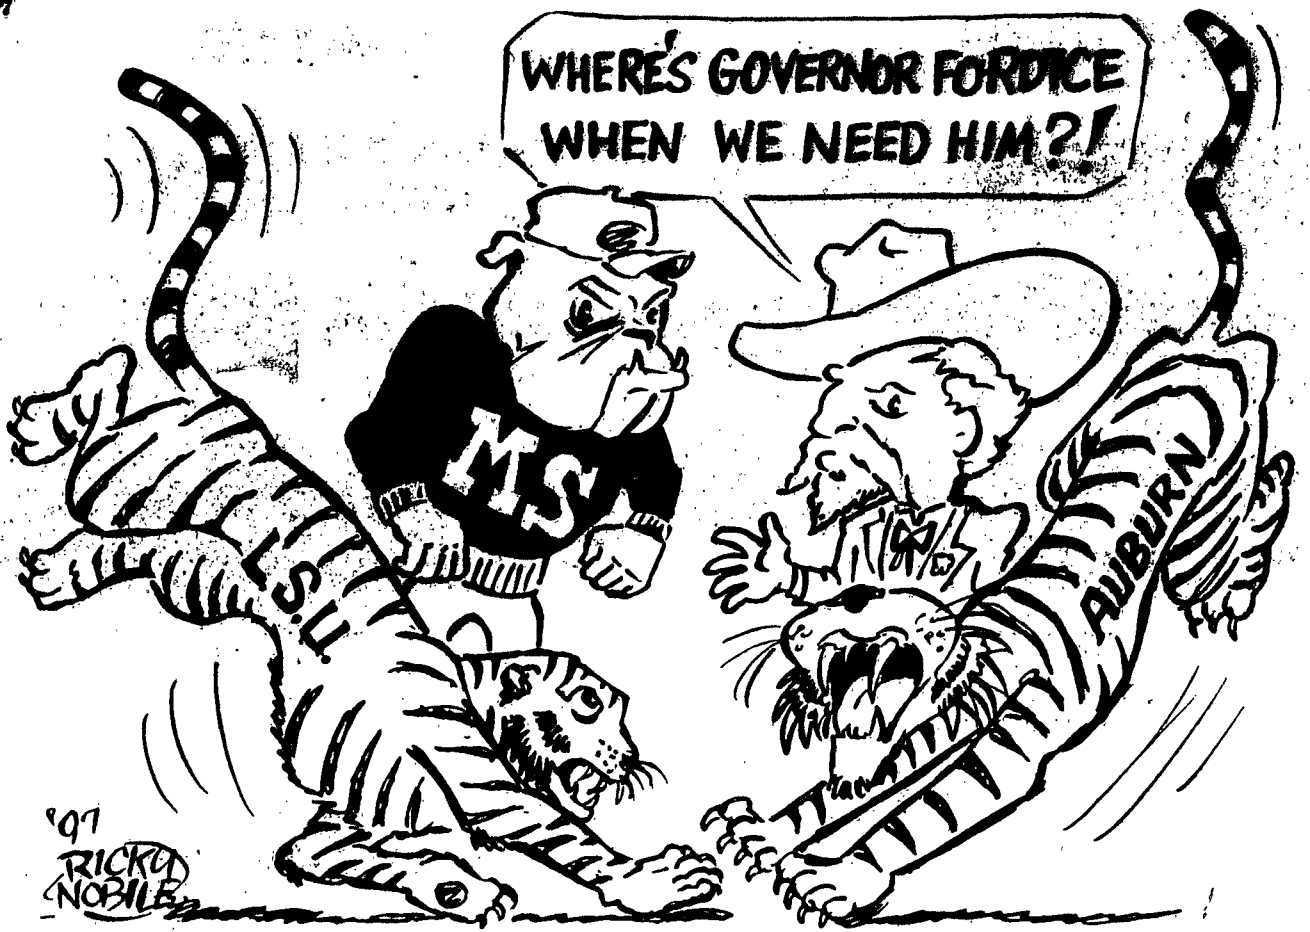

The building was gutted by fire a while back causing the legendary drug store to close.

Fahey Drug Store had customers throughout the county and even offered home delivery, which is just about unheard of today.

When I was a youngster, Third Street, Blaize Avenue, or Railroad Avenue, as the thoroughfare has been and is called, was really the center of business activity in Bay St. Louis.

I even worked at Hubbard's Hardware when I was a student, in the next block from the drug store.

I can still visualize the area and all of the activities.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mother Teresa never called to be successful, just faithful

Dear Editor:

When the news came across the TV at noon today that Mother Teresa, this remarkable woman who truly had a servant's heart, had gone home to be with the Lord, I was immediately reminded of one of the great stories they tell about her.

A slightly over-zealous reporter was quizzing her regarding the lasting results of her work and some of the poor souls she was ministering to.

He said, "You bring them off the streets, clean them up, feed them, doctor their physical needs, talk to them about God and what life is really all about, and the next thing you know they are back out on the streets and back to their old ways. You call this successful?"

Without hesitation she said, "Young man I was never called to be successful, just faithful!"

And that she was!

ASK THE V.A.

By Donald Mauffray
Veterans Service Officer

Entertainer to be honorary veteran

When "Thanks For The Memories" Bob Hope attempted to enlist in the armed forces during World War II, the U.S. Government said no. Hope, the government figured, would perform a greater service as a civilian entertainer for troops.

While the government definitely made the right choice, it had no idea how ardently the man, born Leslie Townes Hope in Eltham, England, would carry out that duty.

"From World War II through the Persian Gulf War, Bob Hope performed for millions of American GIs stationed all over the world," said Rep. Bob Stump (R-Ariz.).

"He performed in some 45 USO tours in more than 40 countries, and his annual Christmas show lasted 22 years."

As a young sailor, Rep. Stump saw Hope, who turned 94 in May, perform at Pearl Harbor during World War II. As a congressman, Stump recently introduced legislation that would make Hope an "honorary veteran" of the U.S. Armed Forces. And it is not routine legislation.

According to the joint resolution, H. J. Res. 76, "the United States has never before conferred" such status on an individual. And it "is and should remain an extraordinary honor not lightly conferred nor frequently granted."

As proof, Stump points out that Hope "has given unselfishly of his time" for more than 50 years to entertain "millions of servicemen during their loneliest moments." Those moments, far from home, are vivid memories for many veterans.

Many times, Bob Hope has entertained U.S. troops in extreme and difficult conditions. He is a true friend of the men and women in uniform and can receive no better tribute than to be named an honorary veteran.

Hope is no stranger to awards. According to the Guinness Book of World Records, he is the most honored entertainer in the world.

He has received more than 50 honorary doctorates and thousands of awards, including the American Congressional Gold Medal, the Jean Hersholdt Humanitarian Award, the Medal of Freedom, the Medal of the Arts, and the Distinguished Service Medals of each of the U.S. Armed Services.

In addition, Hope accepted VFW's first Al Jolson Gold Medal Award (since renamed the Hall of Fame Award) in 1952 at the organization's national convention in Los Angeles.

Hope also is the namesake of the Navy's lead ship in a new class of Strategic Sealift vessels, the USNS Bob Hope (T-AKR 300). The Air Force recently dedicated its newest C-17 Globemaster III in his honor as well.

Senate bill revises court assessments

By Phil Bryant
State Auditor

The Mississippi Legislature revised the uniform court assessments in 1997 with Senate Bill 3015, effective July 2, 1997, which amends Section 99-19-73 of the Mississippi Code.

The Other Misdemeanors uniform assessment was revised to add $1.50 to establish the State Crime Stoppers Fund, which will be administered by the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council of the Department of Public Safety.

Proceeds will be used for authorized purposes of the State Crime Stoppers Program, including providing reward money. Another increase of $1 was approved to the Traffic Violations uniform assessment for the Mississippi Leadership Council on Aging Fund; to be used for coordinating crime prevention for the elderly and other purposes of the Mississippi Leadership Council on Aging.

These increases come in addition to increases approved by the Legislature in 1996 in Senate Bill 2050. The current uniform assessments are listed below.

Whenever a court imposes a fine or other penalty for any violation as follows:

Traffic Violations	$24
Implied Consent	$150
Game and Fish	$42
Litter Law	$25
Other Misdemeanors	$48
Other Felonies	$127

It should be noted the uniform assessment is still collected if the fine is suspended in whole or in part, and uniform assessments may not be suspended or reduced by the court.

Other assessments include Court Constituents (Section 24-26-9), State Criminal Justice Fund (Section 27-19-27), optional Law Library Assessment (Section 19-7-31), State Appearance Bond Fee Assessment (Section 83-39-31), and in civil cases, State Court Education (Section 37-26-3).

Courts encroaching on legislature's turf

Who is making law — the courts or the legislature?

A new study of the nation's legal system shows courts are eroding the balance of power and encroaching on the legislature's right to make law.

In just over a decade, more than 60 state court decisions have been rendered, overturning newly enacted tort reforms in 26 states.

Victor E. Schwartz, a Washington, D.C. attorney and the recognized national leader in the tort reform movement, contends that never before in the history of the nation have state courts been rushing as they are today to overturn legislative decisions.

In many instances, he adds, the courts have simply taken unto themselves the powers and duties of the legislature, tipping the scales of balance of power. This imbalance, he said, has taken place particularly in the realm of tort law.

For example, says Schwartz, "Some courts extended the concept of punitive damages into new and uncharted territory. For over 200 years, punitive damages were reserved for a small class of torts involving intentional wrongs, such as assault and battery, libel and slander, malicious prosecution, false imprisonment and intentional interferences with property such as trespass and conversion or destruction of property."

Today, courts have encouraged class action lawsuits which involve masses of litigants seeking high-dollar damages against a single defendant.

The intrusion of the courts into the legislative arena is happening in Mississippi.

A Mississippi Economic Council study of the Mississippi Supreme Court, for example, says for the 1990-96 period, "The Court has demonstrated a disturbing trend toward a populist brand of jurisprudence."

In practical terms, populist jurisprudence promotes the interest of the plaintiff at the expense of the defendant.

"The Court has sometimes rewritten state law and invaded the legislative process," the Council said.

Simply put, the Mississippi Supreme Court has fallen into line with the courts in the other states that have rewritten laws and taken over legislative responsibilities.

A step toward reversing this trend is being ignored by the very branch of government it could help most. The Mississippi Legislature has refused to consider appointment of appellate judges, a move that would end the popular election of appellate judges and stop the high-powered, high-cost elections of justices.

Mississippi needs to remove the justices insofar as possible from the political arena by creating a system of evaluation of nominees, appointment for specific terms with Senate approval, and retention by election.

Suddenly, the urgency of this action seems very clear.

Mother Teresa transcended religious, political differences

BY DAVID BRIGGS
Associated Press

She was the closest person to a living saint many people may ever know, a woman who transcended religious and political differences wherever she set up an AIDS hospice or a homeless shelter.

When Mother Teresa died Friday, a world went into mourning, not only for the passing of this humble Indian woman, but also for the loss of the symbol of perhaps the globe's most unassailable religious figure.

In a week when the leader of one of the United States' largest Baptist churches publicly sought forgiveness for moral lapses, and at a time when nearly all religious leaders seem to be drawn into political minefields, her work picking up the dying off the streets of Calcutta or rescuing mentally ill children in Beirut captured the world's imagination of one person who embodied the religious ideal of simple, selfless service to the poor.

A visibly upset Cardinal John O'Connor of New York said Mother Teresa is already a saint.

"The world loses a woman who walked this world," he said, then paused, struggling for composure, before continuing, "in as holy a fashion as any woman I've ever known."

Five years must pass before the Catholic Church can even begin the process of canonization for Mother Teresa, but barely had word of her death been announced than people throughout the country began to echo O'Connor's sentiments.

Coretta Scott King, widow of the slain civil rights leader

Martin Luther King, said in Atlanta, "Our world has lost the most celebrated saint of our times. This courageous woman gave hope to millions, and showed us the power of caring and human kindness."

Even the pre-eminent figure of American Protestantism — Billy Graham — could think of no other word to describe her.

"It was my privilege to be with her on several occasions. The first time was at the Home of Dying Destitutes in Calcutta," Graham said. "I had a wonderful hour of fellowship in the Lord with her just at sunset, and I will never forget the sounds, the smells and the strange beauty of that place. When she walked into the room to greet me, I felt that I was, indeed, meeting a saint."

Raise

State-shared revenues also are expected to climb by some $154,000.

Expenditures include raises ranging from 2.7 percent to 8 percent for employees, and hikes for city councilmembers and the mayor.

Council members pay will increase by $50 per month, for an annual pay of some $10,500.

Mayor Eddie Favre's salary is projected to go from $54,757 to $79,650. Favre said Tuesday, however, that hike is merely a projection, since his salary is tied to the annual rate of inflation as of July.

Aside from raises, the budget plan calls for additions to the city workforce size.

Favre is asking for three additional firemen and two more policemen, and two new part-time workers in the Recreation/Cultural division.

The extra firemen will help

venues and expenditures.

In an effort to ward off a public squabble over the proposed raises, Walters and Stovall had requested a workshop meeting with supervisors Tuesday afternoon, but only District 2 Supervisor Rocky Pullman and District 3 Supervisor Lisa Coward showed up, along with the media and county administrator Tim Kellar. P&H President Dave McDonald also attended.

Walters explained that the budget represented only a four percent increase over last year's expenditures, and said the raises were recommended by the P&H's Finance Committee.

District 4 Supervisor Steve Seymour asked Walters to submit to supervisors a print-out listing the amount that employees were being paid now in their various positions and what they would be paid with the proposed increase.

At the workshop, Walters had explained that the raises would cost an estimated $40,000 to implement for all employees, but a rebate of almost $38,000 from a reduction in workmen's compensation claims almost covered the expenditure.

Before supervisors adjourned near noon, Walters and Stovall returned with the print-out requested by Seymour, and the discussion turned again to the proposed raises.

Board President Philip Moran made the motion to approve the raises and proposed budget. "I'm ready to approve what my representative (on the Finance Committee) put on the floor," said Moran. Coward seconded, then Kellar, who is not a voting member, expressed his concerns.

He pointed out that last September supervisors went along with P&H recommendations and granted 15 employees a 10 percent pay raise. Walters got a 26 percent hike in his salary and Stovall, 20 percent.

He said the raises proposed this year, "Are quite a bit more than what other county employees are getting" in similar positions. Raises for other county employees this year will range from two to seven percent, according to their present income level, according to County Comptroller Patty Greer.

Walters countered, "Except for a couple of positions, their responsibilities are quite different." He alluded to the fact that the staff worked especially hard to bring the giant Wellman plant to Port Bienville.

"In terms of economic development, we've been more successful than any county in the state," said Walters.

Kellar explained, as county administrator, he has to look at the overall picture and was concerned that pay for Port and Harbor employees were already above with other county employees are making, and increases each year would put them far off par what others are making.

"There has to be some rhyme and reason," said Kellar.

Seymour said he had approved pay raises for all other county employees because it amounted to a cost of living increase, but he had some reservations about higher raises for P&H employees.

Moran called for a vote, and District 1 Supervisor Jeep Ladner voted against approving the budget with the pay raises included. Pullman and Seymour joined Ladner in the vote against. Ladner was a member of the Port & Harbor Commission when he was elected supervisor in 1995.

Moran said it was possible supervisors might reconsider at their Sept. 29 meeting, in time for the raises to become effective Oct. 1.

Pullman then motioned to approve the proposed budget without including the pay raises, and his motion passed unanimously.

In the workshop the day before, Walters said two major capital outlays would get underway at Stennis Airport next year.

A total $109,468 has been set aside to overlay the north-south road leading into the airport from Texas Flat Road, and other monies would be used to excavate and raise the four giant fuel tanks now on site.

Pullman said he wants to see more happening at the airport in view of the fact that it continues to get federal grants for improvements to the runway, lighting and other areas.

He said some of the people he's spoken to feel "like we're wasting the taxpayers' money," even though federal funds are being used, and the county doesn't subsidize the airport's operations.

"We have got to do something to get this airport up and running," said Pullman.

Walters said he and Stovall, whose job is mainly to market Stennis, are working on an overall marketing plan with the state Department of Transportation, but the stumbling block to luring some major clients is based on the fact that the school board seems intent on building the new Middle School adjacent to the present Hancock High School.

He did not reveal the subject of some on-going talks, but said he and Stovall were working on a couple of "very large projects that would impact the airport."

clerk, who was also at the back of the store, became suspicious and picked up the phone to call police, Varnell said.

He said the suspect then grabbed the phone from the clerk and told her to hang up the phone. He then instructed the clerk to go to the front of the store where he obtained money from the clerk, according to Varnell.

He said the suspect instructed the clerk to lay face down on the floor, and he then fled the store.

Varnell said an undisclosed amount of cash was taken from the store. No gun was ever produced, although his hand was in his right front pocket that had the clerk believe he was carrying a weapon, Varnell said.

The Waveland and Bay St. Louis police departments, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Mississippi Highway Patrol are involved in attempting to locate the suspect.

Waveland investigator Greg Martin is in charge of the investigation.

year in prison and a fine of up to $1,000. Each count of possession of illegal pull tabs carries a maximum penalty of one year in prison and a fine of up to $5,000.

In the sting, operators of eight area lounges were arrested and 37 illegal gaming devices were seized. A total $3,119 was also confiscated.

the city move to a lower fire insurance rating, the mayor said, and the part-timers in Recreation will enable the renovated gymnasium to be kept open on a full-time basis.

In addition, Favre wants another clerk in the administrative division, and a new part-time employee to assist in building inspections.

The mayor said building inspection activity has increased tremendously, requiring the extra help. He also asked for two more workers in the grounds maintenance operation.

The budget also includes a part-time slot for a director of the Downtown Development Foundation. The budget offers over $22,000 for the Foundation, including personnel, supplies and travel, training and promotions.

Favre said the foundation will expand the scope of its efforts from a Main Street focus to a citywide effort.

Most outside organizations will see their funding levels essentially the same as this year, with outlays totaling $123,360.

That sum includes $32,500 divided up among the Epilepsy Foundation, Hope Haven, the Hancock Historical Society, Gulf Coast Women's Center, Hancock 2000 Education Commission, and Save Our Children. Another $23,600 is designated for "other" giving during the year.

During Monday's meeting, Hope Haven officials pleaded for more than the $20,000 that the budget earmarks for the shelter for abused and neglected children.

Hope Haven director Terry Latham made an impassioned presentation on the need for a $35,000 contribution from the city, and urged council members to visit the existing shelter before voting on the budget.

Latham also asked for city help in finding land to build a new shelter, saying the existing home is far too small to accommodate the local need. Hope Haven is a non-profit organization of area citizens, which operates the facility on a $200,000 budget.

The foundation solicits contributions from a multiplicity of governmental bodies, and holds extensive private fund-raisers to supplement its income.

City officials will act on the budget and tax levy during a Monday meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m.

"If any material changes are made, (the city) must give the public a chance to comment on it," explained Artigues. "The city cannot adopt something different from what was presented to the public without giving them a chance to comment on it."

A meeting has been scheduled on Monday, Sept. 15, following the regular workshop, to adopt the budget. However, it is not clear yet what budget will be voted on.

Late yesterday afternoon, Alderman Al Kingston, Jr. met with Mason in what Mason described as a "private meeting" to discuss proposed changes to the budget presented last Friday at a public hearing.

"Al and I worked it out," Mason said following the meeting.

According to Mason, the new proposed budget includes a $700 across the board pay raise for city employees.

"The high spectrum is 2.6 percent to 10 percent for the lowest paid employees," said Mason.

Mason met separately with Kingston on Wednesday. By law, if two aldermen meet with the mayor, the meeting is considered public and the media is notified. In meeting with an alderman separately, the necessity of notifying the media is sidestepped.

The budget originally proposed by Mason included almost $390,000 in transfers from the water and gas and the sewer funds.

Several aldermen voiced concern over an additional transfer from the capital improvement fund (bond money) to the general fund. The $93,875 transfer was earmarked to pay for street paving and matching funds which may be needed for a MDOT project involving extensive work to Nicholson Avenue. However, using the bond money for such things as street paving, traditionally budgeted yearly, could leave the city unable to fund planned capital improvements.

Mason said no public hearing is needed on the newly proposed budget since "the bottom line is all the same."

He added he does not know if Aldermen Jay Fleuriot would agree with the new proposal. Alderman Louis Smolenaky was also not consulted on Wednesday.

Gavney joined county government in February of 1994 as a part-time building inspector, but was made full-time shortly after supervisors adopted the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance last January.

His workload more than doubled in his new dual capacity, and last April supervisors approved recommendations by the Planning Commission to raise Gavney's salary from $15,800 to $18,000.

In the budget adopted last week, Gavney's salary was raised from $18,000 to $22,000, and supervisors also allotted for him to hire a part-time assistant at $8 an hour.

Ladner is limited as to what he can earn because he is drawing social security, and he will start at a salary of $13,500.

Planning Commission Vice-Chairman Skip Marsh also told District 2 Supervisor Rocky Pullman that the Commission was going over applications received for the part-time help and would soon select candidates for interviews.

Ladner has a history of service to Hancock County. He began working as Veterans Services Officer, then was building official. He served eight years on the Board of Supervisors representing District 5, before current Board President Philip Moran upset him in the Democratic primary in 1995.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1997-9

Booth space available at business trade show

It's a forum for business growth.

It's an opportunity to get to know Mississippi-based companies.

It's the Mississippi Business Open, which is scheduled for Nov. 11-13 at the TradeMart in Jackson.

It's sponsored by the Mississippi Economic Council, Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development, the University of Southern Mississippi, WorldCom, the Clarion-Ledger, and the Mississippi Radio Network.

Booth space is available to Mississippi companies, but this is more than just a trade show. WorldCom, Trustmark, and BellSouth Mobility will provide investors an opportunity to learn more about their operations during presentations by their chief executive officers and financial executives. The University of Southern Mississippi business school will lend its expertise to state companies.

The Department of Economic and Community Development will use the Open to launch a year-long Mississippi Inc. program which will spotlight state companies.

"Booth space is filling up," said James Watts of Market-South Productions, the show's organizer. "We have one bay of the TradeMart nearly full, and once that is filled we will assess the need for opening a second. This is an excellent opportunity for companies to display their products or services."

Two receptions, a golf tournament, numerous individual conferences and a noon luncheon featuring Gov. Kirk Fordice are among events planned.

To reserve booth space, contact James Watts at 800-999-3976.

'Hunt' winner announced

Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau Executive Director Beth Carriere, left, is assisted by Vaughn Stenson, Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development director of tourism, on Monday as they pulled the name of the lucky winner of a Jeep Wrangler. The name drawn was Sidney Dugas of Metairie, who, his wife reported, celebrated his 43rd birthday when called Monday after the drawing at the Welcome Center. "The Hunt" was designed to direct visitors at the Welcome Center to Hancock County businesses and began in May. Carriere said some 560 visitors completed the number of merchant visits while over 11,000 participated. The hunting grounds included the Stennis Space Center, downtown Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead, Buccaneer State Park and Casino Magic. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Real estate licenses issued

Real estate license examinations were held in August in Jackson for those persons desiring to enter the field of real estate sales, rentals and other related real estate activities.

Four individuals sitting for the brokers examination successfully completed the requirements and will now become licensed real estate brokers.

Fifty-four individuals sitting for the salespersons examination successfully completed the requirements and will now be awarded the salespersons license.

The examination consists of 100 questions prepared by the American College Testing Services (ACT) for real estate license law officials across the United States and Canada. Applicants are questioned concerning the Mississippi real estate law and rules and regulations governing their activities in that vocation.

There are approximately 5,773 salespersons, 4,382 brokers and 1,355 real estate companies and corporations licensed by the Mississippi Real Estate Commission.

Commissioner Lenny Sawyer, 5th Congressional District, Gulfport, announces the following have been issued licenses:

Salespersons: Bridget L. Boehm and Geri Hughes, both of Bay St. Louis; Tiffany Charbonnet of Pass Christian, Wanda Demaggio of Waveland, and Nunzio Loiacono and Santina P. Loiacono, both of Diamondhead.

Bank names new employees

Ric Williams has joined Hancock Bank as branch manager and loan officer of the bank's Biloxi Main office.

Williams assumes the duties of branch manager from assistant vice president Tom Collins who now serves the bank as a senior business banker.

A native of Wiggins, Williams comes to Hancock with five years of banking experience as a credit officer with the Bank of Wiggins. Prior to joining the bank, he worked as an administrator for Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College at the home campus in Perkinston.

Williams earned his bachelor's degree in finance and management from Mississippi State University and a master of business administration degree from William Carey College. An active community leader in Stone County, Williams is a 1995 graduate of Leadership Stone County.

Edward G. Francis has joined Hancock Bank as vice president and commercial lender at the bank's One Hancock Plaza office in Gulfport.

Francis comes to Hancock with nine years of banking experience. Prior to joining the bank, he spent four years at First Tennessee Bank in Memphis where he served as vice president in the bank's commercial lending group. During the first five years of his banking career, he was an assistant vice president in the metropolitan lending department at National Bank of Commerce in Memphis.

A native of New Orleans, Francis holds a bachelor's degree in finance from the University of Mississippi and has attended the consumer and commercial lending schools at Vanderbilt University.

Vice President H. Arnold Wethey has been named manager of the personal and corporate trust divisions in Hancock Bank's Mississippi and Louisiana operations.

Wethey, a 29-year banking veteran, joined Hancock Bank of Louisiana in 1990 as corporate trust division manager in Baton Rouge and has played an integral role in the unification of the bank's Mississippi and Louisiana trust departments. A native of Zwolle, Louisiana, Wethey attended Louisiana State University and is a trust graduate from the Southwest-ern Graduate School of Banking

Dedeaux selected

Denise Dedeaux, an employee of Johnson Controls World Services Inc. at the John C. Stennis Space Center has been selected to serve on the board of directors of Women in Community Service (WICS).

Dedeaux, of Picayune, was recently chosen to serve on the board based on her work with the Adopt-A-School mentoring partnership between Johnson Controls and the Gulfport Job Corps Center.

She has been involved with coordinating the partnership for three years. Dedeaux, a Johnson Controls employee for six years, also received the Trail Blazer award from WICS for innovative advancement of WICS' mission earlier this year.

Dedeaux was also recently elected to serve as president of the Gulfport Job Corps Community Council of which WICS is a member.

Women in Community Service was founded in 1964 by a coalition of American G.I. Forum Women, Church Women United, the National Council of Catholic Women, the National Council of Jewish Women and the National Council of Negro Women.

WICS' mission is to help women and young adults achieve self sufficiency one person, one family, one community at a time.

SPORTS

10-THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1997

Bob Harmon Football Forecast

NFL Forecast

Sunday and Monday, Sept. 14-15

Carolina, 17—San Diego, 14

(Sunday) This is the first meeting of the Panthers and the Chargers, who are about as geographically diverse as two teams in Western divisions can be. It may be a low-scoring, defensive contest.

Chicago, 26—Detroit 20

In their first matchup last year, Scott Mitchell led the Lions over the Bears 35-16 with four TD passes. Chicago won the rematch 31-14 to end a three-game losing streak against Detroit.

Denver, 32, St. Louis, 13

The Broncos and Rams have battled only seven times, most recently in 1994, when then-LA won 27-21. The Rams lead the series 4-3, and every game has been close — until this one, anyway.

Green Bay, 28—Miami, 21

This could be the game of the week, though Green Bay-Miami history isn't what you might expect: The Packers are 0 for eight against the Dolphins, last losing to them 24-14 three years ago.

Indianapolis, 24—Seattle, 16

Winners of four of their five games against the Seahawks, including two in '94, the Colts should prevail, but it may get ugly: Both clubs gave up more points than they scored last year.

Kansas City, 30—Buffalo, 19

The Bills have taken three straight from the Chiefs, including a 20-9 win last December that kept K.C. out of the playoffs for the first time in the '90s. Think the Chiefs want this one?

Minnesota, 20—Tampa Bay, 13

Instead of dominating the Buccaneers, the Vikings have struggled against them, unable to sweep their divisional series since '92. Last year the scores were 24-13 (Bucs) and 21-10 (Vikes).

New England, 22—N.Y. Jets, 17

After coming from 21-0 down to beat the Jets 31-27 in their first AFC East matchup in '96, the Patriots made short work of N.Y. in the rematch, 34-10 — their fifth straight over the Jets.

N.Y. Giants, 14—Baltimore, 12

For what it's worth, the last time a Ted Marchibroda-led Baltimore club played the Giants was in '79, when the Colts beat N.Y. 31-7. These two teams, however, are starting from scratch.

Oakland, 27—Atlanta, 15

Another case of true-West-meets-West-in-need-of-realignment. The Raiders have won five of this series' eight games; the Falcons can keep it close by containing Oakland's running attack.

San Francisco, 29—New Orleans, 14

For geographic perspective, see above. The 49ers dispatched the Saints twice last year, 27-11 and 24-17, and they're nine-for-their-last-11 against N.O. The Saints are in need of offense.

Washington, 28—Arizona, 16

If it hadn't been for two upsets at the hands of the Cardinals — 37-34 in OT in Washington and 27-26 in Tempe — the Redskins would've cruised into the '96 playoffs. So it's payback time.

Dallas, 24—Philadelphia, 21

(Monday) Fighting for the NFC East title last year, the Cowboys and Eagles split, Dallas winning first, 23-19, and the Eagles striking back, 31-21. Philadelphia is 0-3 on Monday nights since '94.

denotes home team
(Open date: Cincinnati, Jacksonville, Pittsburgh, Tennessee)

College Highlights for Sept. 13

We're not sure we can take many more finishes like those of the last two Colorado-Michigan battles. In 1994, Colorado QB Kordell Stewart's last-second, 64-yard Hail Mary heave was deflected into the hands of Buffaloes receiver Michael Westbrook in the Michigan end zone, giving Colorado a stunning 27-26 win in front of more than 100,000 Wolverines fans.

Last year in Boulder, Colo., the Buffs had a chance to do it again, but this time Koy Detmer's 37-yard potential TD toss as time ran out was deflected to nothing but grass, and Michigan escaped with a 20-13 victory despite being outgained on offense 357 yards to 247. Each time, the contests looked so close that we picked the home team, and this year it's no different: We like Michigan, in Ann Arbor, by two points. Needless to say, though, we're not terribly confident.

In Chapel Hill, N.C., Stanford and North Carolina meet for the first time ever in what is seen as a first big test for North Carolina. The defending Gator Bowl champion Tar Heels have nine starters back from the nation's No. 1-ranked defense in '96 and are hoping to muscle their way to the top of the college heap.

Scoring against them will be a tall order for Cardinal junior QB

Chad Hutchinson and his offense, which ranked last in the Pacific-10 last year. North Carolina may allow Stanford only a couple of field goals.

In the first huge Big East matchup, Virginia Tech hosts Syracuse, and this one looks almost too close to call. That would make it dramatically different from last fall's meeting, in which the Syracuse Orangemen scored seven TD's and ground out 338 rushing yards in a 52-21 thrashing that ended Virginia Tech's 13-game winning streak. The Hokies will want this one badly, but not badly enough.

Elsewhere, Texas will unleash its formidable offense against the UCLA Bruins in their first meeting in 26 years. On their way to the '96 Big 12 championship, the Longhorns averaged 460 yards per game, and the Bruins won't stop them.

A couple of other big games, meanwhile, won't go quite the way folks expect. Louisiana State, favored to dominate the Southeastern Conference West, will beat Mississippi State, but only narrowly.

And our upset of the week: visiting Arizona State over host Miami. The Hurricanes spanked the Sun Devils 47-10 the last time they met, in '94, but this time around Miami's defense is too green.

BETWEEN THE LINES

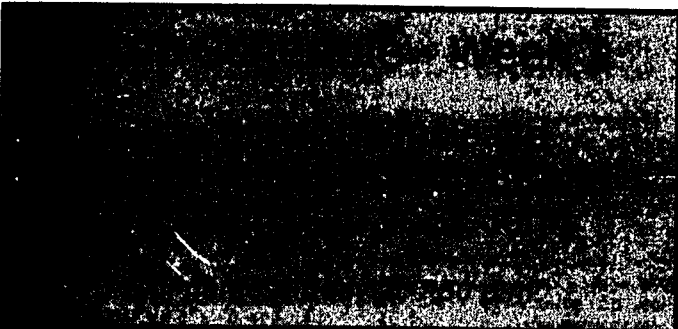

By Richard Meek

Success can only be achieved one step at a time, and quite often, the early steps are the most painful.

Just how gut-wrenching that can be Bay High fans discovered on Friday night. The Tigers turned in a nearly flawless defensive effort that was marred by a questionable pass interference call in overtime. But it was that call that led to a Long Beach touchdown, and a 12-9 setback for Bay High.

For a team hungry for a win, for a team that had only one win last year, each yard of Brannon Griffin's eight-yard winning run was like a dagger to the Tigers' heart. But the loss was not without some highlights, some foundation on which to build the rest of the season.

After a 41-0 trouncing to Gautier in Week One, the Tigers rebounded with a superlative defensive effort, albeit against a much weaker foe than Gautier. Junior linebacker Charlie Buckley was outstanding. Buckley recovered one fumble, caused another that led to Bay High's first and only touchdown of the young season.

Bay High JV downs SSC

Tony Benton returned an interception 98 yards for a score to lead Bay High to a 40-24 victory over St. Stanislaus in a junior varsity game Monday night at St. Stanislaus.

Benton's interception came with 52 seconds remaining and the Tigers ahead, 32-24.

The Rocks had driven to the Bay High two-yard line before Benton's interception.

Benton also scored a rushing touchdown. Ty Barrett added another score for the Tigers.

Trey Moses and Chris Canon scored for the Rocks.

Jason Burge threw a pair of touchdown passes and Chris Goff scored three times to lead Hancock to a 26-16 victory over Pearl River Central in a junior varsity game.

Burge threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Goff and a 31-yard scoring pass to Kenny Fowler for Hancock, 3-0.

Goff also scored on an 85-yard kickoff return, a 49-yard run and added a two-point conversion.

Hancock's junior high team fell to 0-3 with a 16-0 loss to PRC.

A week ago, the junior varsity Hawks defeated Long Beach 28-0. Goff scored on a six-yard run and Nick Foret on a 15-yard run.

Hancock also added two defensive touchdowns. Trellany Mayfield returned a fumble 45 yards for one score and Frank Hess added another on a 10-yard return of an

and was in on several tackles.

Sophomore tackle Bert Hopgood was equally as impressive. Neither Buckley or Hopgood played a year ago when the Tigers were 1-8. Buckley was recruited from the hallways by new coach David Baughman, who brings a great enthusiasm to the program, and Hopgood sat out with an injury.

Baughman is a gambler on defense, sending linebackers, cornerbacks, or just about anybody in a Bay High uniform in on blitzes. His imaginative scheme worked well against Long Beach, as the Bearcats were held to a total of 50 yards in the first 40 minutes. Long Beach's longest play from scrimmage was 13 yards, and that was on a quarterback sneak. Griffin's run was the 'Cats third longest play of the evening.

Perhaps most encouraging is that Baughman's defense is young, with only four to five seniors playing regularly.

If defense was Bay High's bright light, offense was the Tigers' fallen star. Bay High has managed only one touchdown in eight quarters, and that came with 1:17 remaining on Friday.

Rebuilding can be painful

The Tigers were held to 145 total yards, and B.J. Herrington was the team's leading rusher with 40 yards on 10 carries.

More disturbing than the offensive output are the mental errors. The Tigers were guilty of 12 penalties, and many came at critical junctures, such as a procedure call that wiped out Tank Williams' 11-yard run that would have given Bay High a first down at the Bearcat 30.

"We are making stupid mental mistakes," Baughman admitted.

Also, the Tigers are not in sync offensively. Often, Williams turned around on Friday and found no one in his backfield. Busted plays happen, but so many in the second game of the season is alarming to Baughman.

"It is disturbing because we work hard on offense," Baughman said.

He admitted the loss of starting running back Rendell Haynes, who was ejected for fighting early in the game, contributed to the Tigers' ineptness.

One could also say coverage on special teams was a problem, but it was only the riddle of Robert Lewis that Bay High could not solve. Lewis accumulated 164 yards in punt returns, including a 75-yarder in the third quarter that gave Long Beach a 6-0 lead.

But to their credit, the Tigers forced a turnover late in the game, and converted it into what should have been a winning touchdown. Only a missed PAT forced the overtime and set the stage for Bay High's heartbreak.

The interference call that led to Griffin's winning score was close, but coaches admit that those are the type of calls that usually go against a program fallen on hard times.

The players' post-game tears spoke volumes of their heartbreak, and of their dedication to turning the program around. With Baughman in command, it is headed in the right direction, one step at a time.

Congratulations to Pass Christian coach Gavin Lott and his Pirates. After winning a combined one game in the last two seasons, Lott has the Pirates off to a 2-0 start.

St. Stanislaus is 0-2 and has yet to score a point. But Rock coach David Kenson broke the cardinal of coaching when he took points off of the board against Pass Christian.

The Rocks had seemingly taken a 3-0 lead in the third quarter following a SSC field goal. But the Pirates were penalized, and rather than declining the penalty and taking the points, Kenson elected to gamble and go for the touchdown.

He rolled snake eyes, and Stanislaus eventually lost 7-0 in overtime.

Friday forecast
Bay High at Vancleave — The Tigers' defensive creativity, is fun to watch and creates havoc for opponents. But until Bay High solves its offensive dilemma, wins will be hard to come by. Vancleave 13, Bay High 6.

St. Stanislaus hosts Long

Beach — This is a great opportunity for the Rocks to pick up their first win for Kenson. But as with Bay High, a fallow offense can be lethal.

Long Beach 9, St. Stanislaus 3

Pass Christian hosts St. John — Football is fun again at Pass Christian, thanks to Lott and his staff. Lott has done a masterful job in two games. When was the last time Pass Christian was 3-0? Dig for the record books. Pass Christian 24, St. John 13

PRCC to face Northeast

Pearl River Community College doesn't have much time to prepare for the 1997 season opening football victory over Northeast last Thursday.

This Thursday, the Wildcats take the road for Senatobia to take on the nationally-ranked Northwest Rangers in non-division community college action. Northwest fell to South Division powerhouse Hinds 31-13 in its season opener last Thursday.

Pearl River head coach Keith Daniels said NWCC played well enough to defeat Hinds.

"For the most part they played extremely well, but wound up beating themselves in the second half on turnovers," Daniels said. "They're an extremely good football team on both sides of the ball."

Bobby Franklin's Rangers entered the 1997 season ranked No. 5 in the JC Gridwire poll, but their loss to No. 3 Hinds should see Northwest drop in the polls.

"Northwest's offense is centered around their quarterback (sophomore Willie Gardner), who is a very talented athlete and his athleticism alone puts lots of pressure on your defense," Daniels said.

"Defensively, their down people are outstanding with plenty of speed. Northwest's overall team speed on defense is probably the most impressive thing about them."

Last season, PRCC fell to the Rangers 35-13 in Poplarville. Gardner connected on eight of 15 passes for 74 yards, rushed for 34 yards on four carries, passed for one TD, and rushed for another.

Against Hinds last week, Gardner rushed for 52 yards on 11 carries and connected on 14 of 24 passes (one interception) for 159 yards.

"We'll have our hands full," said Daniels.

In PRCC's opener, Daniels credited his team's physical conditioning program with giving the Wildcats an edge.

"It was obvious we were in better physical condition than Northeast," Daniels said. "And that proved particularly true in the latter part of the game."

The Wildcats held the Tigers to 179 yards of total offense (173 rush, 6 pass) and picked off two Antonio Kirkpatrick passes (DB Derick Rankin and LB Freddie White). Rankin's antics earned him "Outstanding Defensive Player" honors for the opener.

Offensively, Pearl River amassed 314 yards (268 rush, 46 pass), with sophomore quarterback Shane Tapper connecting on eight of 11 passes (one interception). Tapper was the team's No. 2 runner with 78 yards on four carries, including a 65-yard TD run in the fourth period. He was named the team's Outstanding Offensive Player for the week.

Sophomore running back Bud Haralson led all Wildcat rushers with 90 yards on eight carries, while Danielle Jefferson finished the night with 61 yards on six carries.

Sophomore punter Shawn Grigby, who averaged 41 yards on four punts, was named Outstanding Special Teams Player.

"It's important that a team wins its opener," Daniels said. "Overall, our guys played well, even though we made plenty of mistakes. In the course of the game we made only one critical mistake and that was an interception that led to Northeast's only touchdown."

1997 marks the 30th meeting of the two schools with PRCC holding a 21-8 edge. Pearl River last defeated Northwest in 1990. The Rangers have won or shared five state titles in the last 15 years, winning back-to-back titles in 1991 and 1992.

A 7 p.m. kickoff is set for the NWCC campus in Senatobia.

Hancock varsity cheerleaders

The 1997 Hancock Varsity cheerleaders recently attended UCA Cheer Summer camp on the USM campus in Hattiesburg. During the week the squad received many blue superior ribbons and an overall gold superior ribbon. As the week ended they were awarded the spirit stick and an overall superior squad trophy. Over two dozen squads were in attendance and only five squads were awarded this trophy. All three senior cheerleaders were given the All Star Cheerleader Award. As all-stars they qualify for a trip to cheer in London, England. The seniors are Brent Necaie, R. J. Gonzales and Mark Williams. Tara Necaie, sophomore, was awarded the Camp Base Award for outstanding building achievement. The cheerleaders are, first row from left, Angel LaBue, Jessica Schwartz, co-captain; Kyla Lee Gutierrez, captain; Amber Ladner and Jessica Blackmon; second row, Melanie McManus, Dorian Rivers, Lindsey Barnes, Tara McClendon and Jennifer Sams; third row, Keisha Moran, Rachel Schwartz, Tara Necaie, Kristi Ray, Kacy Jones, Tonya Tabor and Kerrie Feigel; fourth row, Brent Necaie, Amanda Necaie, R. J. Gonzales, Jessica Parker, Jennifer Powers and Mark Williams. Also attending the week-long event were sponsors Teresa Adam and Heather Long.

Wildlife featured at Islands

Save a place on your September calendar to discover the wildlife living at Gulf Islands National Seashore. This month's Sunday schedule features programs so diverse that rangers are talking about everything from how sharks hunt to where fall wildflowers bloom.

Also during September, families and friends will definitely enjoy this month's cooler days during a ranger-led stroll along Davis Bayou.

Finally, Sundays in September will conclude with an art project for children featuring Gulf Coast seashells. Please remember programs at Davis Bayou's Visitor Center in Ocean Springs are free, last one hour and begin at 2 p.m.

Some of Hollywood's most favorite monsters swim right here off the Gulf Coast? How many species of sharks do live in Mississippi's coastal waters? How dangerous are they? How far up a river can sharks swim from the Gulf of Mexico? (You may be surprised with that last question at how far and how big!) Hear the answers on Sunday.

Sept. 14 during Sharks — Life at the Top? We'll separate myth, fear and fact as rangers describe what life is like for one of nature's top predators. Join us at 2 p.m. in the Visitor Center auditorium.

Moving from the ocean to shore, Sept. 20 is a special Saturday for anyone wanting to keep Mississippi's beaches clean. The 1997 Fall Beach Cleanup kicks off with boaters and beachcombers fanning out across mainland and island beaches.

Last year, tons of trash were collected on just the sand beaches of Petit Bois, Horn, East Ship and West Ship Islands. Anyone with a boat who's willing to help clean a mile of island shoreline can contact Gail Bishop at 875-9057.

With cooler weather hovering around the corner, Rangers hope September offers great temperatures for a Marsh walk at Davis Bayou. Join us at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 21 for this hour-long stroll on the boardwalks with a park ranger.

Starting at the Visitor Center, we'll discover what creatures can possibly live in a place that's part ocean and part dry land. Enjoy this pleasant Sunday afternoon of discovery as everyone stays in the shade and no one gets dirty.

Art-for-Kids on Sunday, Sept. 28, features how to use seashells and other sea stuff for children's art projects. It's a hands-on hour of fun with all materials provided free, including shells found on West Ship Island.

Shells have fun names such as sharks-eye and cockle, olive and fighting conch, as well as coquina and oyster drill.

Kids can find out which is which during Art-for-Kids/Sea Shells and Sea Stuff at 2 p.m. at the Visitors Center Auditorium.

The entrance to the Davis Bayou and the William M. Colmer Visitor Center can be found off Hwy. 90 East in Ocean Springs. For information concerning programs in September at Gulf Islands National Seashore, call (601) 875-9057.

'Deuce' new weapon for Rebels

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi freshman Deuce McAllister would rather be running over tacklers than tackling running backs.

With an expanded role because of an injury to starting tailback John Avery, that is exactly what McAllister did as Ole Miss won 23-15 over SMU on Saturday night.

"We finally found a back who can break tackles. John can make people miss but we have been missing a guy who can run over people and also run around people," Ole Miss coach Tommy Tuberville said of the McAllister.

McAllister rushed for 92 yards on 17 hard-nosed carries. He also had two catches for 41 yards, including a second effort conversion of a third down that kept alive an important Ole Miss touchdown drive in the fourth quarter.

Ole Miss built a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, but the Rebels didn't score again until after McAllister set up a 4-yard TD run for Alishma Alexander.

Faced with third-and-6 from the 10, quarterback Stewart Patridge dumped a short pass to McAllister, who ran into a wall of defenders and appeared to be stopped a couple of yards short of a first down. But the 6-foot-1, 210-pound running back continued driving his legs and the defenders to the first down marker.

"One thing that a freshman must do is come in and believe in himself and that's what happened to me," McAllister said. "I got thrown into the fire early when John went down. Hopefully he will come in next week and I will just be there when he needs me."

Avery dislocated his elbow on his second carry of the season, in a season-opening victory over Central Florida. He was on the sideline Saturday, his elbow heavily wrapped, but is expected to return for the Rebels' Southeastern Conference opener at Auburn next weekend.

And to think Ole Miss coaches considered playing McAllister on defense. After all, he was an all-state defensive back at Morton High School and the Rebels began the season with solid depth at tailback.

"I really wanted to play tailback. I like to touch the ball and think I can make plays," McAllister said.

Such as the third-down conversion, which led to Alexander's touchdown and a 20-7 lead.

"Deuce is always working hard in practice. He always has his head up and running hard. He is going to break a lot of records before he leaves here," linebacker Walker Jones said.

Steve Lindsey made a 20-yard field goal with 1:50 left that extended the lead to 23-7.

But SMU, playing its season opener, wasn't out of the game yet. Backup quarterback Chris Sanders threw a 1-yard TD pass to Jack Brewer with 17 seconds left to cap a seven-play, 81-yard drive. After converting the two-point conversion with a pass, the Mustangs failed on an onside kick attempt.

USM wins

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Jamaal Alexander intercepted two passes, returning one 21 yards for a touchdown, as Southern Mississippi defeated Illinois 24-7 Saturday to ruin Ron Turner's coaching debut.

Southern Miss (1-1) also played excellent defense last week but lost 21-6 to No. 2 Florida. By comparison, Florida, the 1996 national champion and top point producer, beat Central Michigan 82-6 Saturday.

Take A Night Out

Casino Magic celebrates 5th anniversary

Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, the first barge concept casino in the world, gears up to celebrate its fifth anniversary on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and in the gaming industry with an incredible lineup of stars, including a trip to Hollywood to see the stars.

The Magic's anniversary is being celebrated the entire month. The highlight of the festivities is a free outdoor concert by Aaron Neville and the Neville Brothers on Sunday, Sept. 28. The concert begins at 8 p.m. Local favorites, Pure Gold, will be performing the same night inside the casino at 7:30, 9:30 and 11:30 p.m. for free.

Additional free entertainment for the month includes Frankie Ford, The Topcats, Doug Supernaw, Little Jimmy Dickens, Vince Vance and more.

A free fireworks display is the finale to the month-long celebration at 9 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 30.

Through Sept. 26, guests can register to win a trip to Hollywood, Calif. in the casino's "Magic of Hollywood" promotion. The star-studded trip includes roundtrip airfare, five nights at the Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills, a convertible rental car, free studio tours, $1,000 cash and an option to see a taping of a live television show. Drawings will be held each Friday at 9 p.m. (That's a trip for two to be given away every Friday night in September).

In addition to winning a trip to Hollywood, guests can enter a $2,500 cash drawing on Sept. 28 after the Neville's concert and on Sept. 30 after the fireworks display. On Sept. 28, between 12 a.m. and 10 p.m., guests may stop by the Magic Money Players club and pick up one entry form for the cash drawing. $500 will be given away every half hour starting at 10:30 p.m.

On Sept. 30, registration is between 12 a.m. and 9:30 p.m. with the $500 cash drawings to be held every half hour between 10 p.m. and 12:30 a.m.

Special limited edition commemorative five-year anniversary chips will also be available after Sept. 10. The chips are in denominations of $5, $25 and $100 and may be purchased as a guest would normally purchase chips at any table game. The chips are designed in bright, festive colors and feature the casino's magical theme.

Billy Joe Royal to perform

National recording artist Billy Joe Royal will bring his unique blend of country music and Motown sounds to the Coast. Boomtown-Casino will showcase this talent Sept. 10 and 11 in Boots Cabaret at 7 and 9 p.m.

Royal, noted for his showmanship and distinctive voice, has released over 13 albums from 1965 to 1992 which include such hits as Down In The Boondocks, Tell It Like It Is and Out of Sight and On My Mind.

At the age of 11, Royal was appearing on his uncle's radio show in his native Georgia. By 14, he appeared as a regular on the Georgia Jubilee with the likes of Ray Stevens, Jerry Reed, Reddy Weller and regular guest stars from the Grand Ole Opry.

Then came the period he still credits with giving him much of his vocal mastery and his stage flair — club work in Savannah with some of R & B's hottest artists.

"We'd book in these big names like the Isley Brothers and Sam Cooke, and I got the chance to know these people and watch them. When somebody did something I thought was really cool, I had all this time on stage to work on it," he says.

Guests can pick up free reserved seating passes at the Boomtown Players Club booth located across from Boots Cabaret. The Players club is open daily from 7 a.m.-11 p.m. There is a two-drink minimum per person to attend each show. Seating is limited. Must be 21 to attend.
